

David E. Dearing - Parliamentarian

David E. Dearing has been very active in genealogical organizations for a number of years. He is a longtime member of the Afro-American Historical and Genealogical Society (AAHGS), a national organization that focuses on black genealogy. He has attended the AAHGS national conferences many times, and twice presented research concerning his family's history. David has published several articles on genealogy and is a former member of the Board of Editors of the AAHGS Journal. He has been a member of IAAGG since 1999. David is also a member of the Kentucky, Virginia, and Breckenridge County, KY Historical Societies.

He is an attorney and has served several terms as the IAAGG parliamentarian. He played a major role in the 2007 IAAGG Constitution revision.