

Judith Bell Casey - Chair of the Membership Committee

Judy Casey was born in Indianapolis, IN, but was educated in South Bend, IN. She attended Fisk University in Nashville, TN, but graduated from the University of Michigan in Ann Arbor, MI and Ball State University in Muncie, IN. She completed doctoral coursework at New York University in New York City, but has not completed her dissertation. She is a retired college administrator, specializing in areas related to recruitment, public relations, management, and financial assistance.

Judy holds a number of genealogy memberships:

- Indiana African American Genealogy Group (IAAGG)
- Genealogy Society of Marion County
- Indiana Genealogy Society
- Tri-State Genealogical Society (IN- KY- IL)
- Genealogy Society of White County (IL)
- African-American Genealogy Group of Miami Valley (OH)
- National Genealogical Society
- Afro-American Genealogical and Historical Society

In addition to her IAAGG duties as Chair of the Membership Committee, Judy is also the Chair of a long term research project, The Lyles Station Family History Project (Gibson County, IN).

Surnames she is researching from her family and in-laws include: Bell, Hamlin, Hairston, Christopher, Adrine, Casey, Powell, Cason, Harrison and Newsome. States include: Indiana, Illinois, Ohio, Kentucky, Tennessee, North Carolina, Virginia and Alabama.

In addition to her passion for genealogy, Judy plays the violin, collects Star Trek memorabilia, and enjoys watching automobile racing and football.